Equal Opportunities Policy for Pupils and Parents

The Equality Act 2010 (“the Act”) replaces previous anti-discrimination laws with a single Act. The Act defines disability as:

‘A physical or mental impairment which has substantial and long term adverse impact on a person’s ability to carry out normal everyday activities.

The Act replaces the three previous equality duties for race, disability and gender, and covers age, disability, gender, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, marriage or civil partnership status, race, religion or belief, and sexual orientation. It also covers failure to make reasonable adjustments. In accordance with the Act the School will have regard to the need to:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct prohibited by the Act.
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not.
- Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not.
- Promote fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs.

A duty to offer and enable Equal Opportunities is the responsibility of the whole School community. It is reflected throughout the organisation of the School and addressed in the taught and hidden curriculum. The School ensures that staff expectations of different race/religious belief groups are no different.

Schools have a duty under paragraph 3 of the ISSR, relating to quality of education provided to ensure that the teaching at the School does not discriminate against pupils contrary to Part 6 Equality Act 2010. In addition, paragraph 5 of the ISSR requires schools to ensure principles are actively promoted which encourage respect for others paying particular regard to the protected characteristics under the Act.

All staff, governors, parents/guardians and visitors regardless of age, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, marriage or civil partnership status, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation and socio-economic background, are welcome and will be encouraged to participate in the life of the School.

The application of the Act can be seen in all aspects of School life, especially in its Safer Recruitment Policy and disability and special educational needs (SEND Policy). All curriculum policies state that pupils will have equal opportunities to access the curriculum.

The School will not discriminate against, harass or victimise a pupil or potential pupil in relation to admissions, the education provided, or by excluding a pupil or subjecting them to any other disadvantage including any failure to make reasonable adjustments. The School does not treat disabled pupils less favourably.

The School believes:

- All adults and pupils are of equal value whether or not they are disabled, whatever their ethnicity, culture, national origin or national status, whatever their gender and gender identity, whatever their religious or non-religious affiliation or faith background and whatever their age and sexual orientation.
- Diversity is a strength. Therefore, the School, respects, values and welcomes difference.
- It is important to acknowledge and celebrate differences and strive to remove barriers and disadvantages which people may face, in relation to age, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender reassignment, pregnancy or maternity, marriage or civil partnership, religion, belief or faith and sexual orientation.
- Positive attitudes and relationships must be fostered and mutual respect shown between groups and communities different from each other.
- A shared sense of cohesion and belonging within the School and wider community is fostered.
- Staff policies and procedures, including recruitment, promotion and continuing professional development must benefit employees and potential employees.
- Throughout the School standards and support for all adults and pupils are paramount, especially those requiring additional assistance.
- It accounts for equality issues in relation to admissions and exclusions; the provision of education and access for all pupils to facilities and services.
- It is aware of the Reasonable Adjustment duty for disabled pupils, designed to enhance access to and participation by disabled pupils, preventing them being placed at a disadvantage compared to their non-disabled peers.
- No one is discriminated against when it comes to employment, promotion or training opportunities.
- It actively promotes equality and diversity through the curriculum and by creating an environment which champions respect for all.
- Admissions arrangements are fair.
- It does not discriminate against pupils, parents or staff by treating them less favourably on the grounds of their age, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender reassignment, pregnancy or maternity, marriage or civil partnership status, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation.

The School:

- Prepares pupils for life in a diverse society and ensures that activities across the curriculum promote pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural development.

- Will not allow pupils to be ridiculed due to racial differences.
- Will not allow racist jokes or stories.

With specific regard to Ability the School:

- Believes every pupil is entitled to a positive, helpful learning environment, with work that matches individual needs. This will be through differentiated planning and additional support from various support staff. (See the SEND and Learning Support policies)

- Makes provision for the individual special needs of any disabled pupils and adults within the School community.
- Believes a physically disabled pupil has a right to participate in all activities in so far as their individual disability allows them to do so.

High March is an Equal Opportunities Employer and School. The High March Equal Opportunities Policy for Staff can be found on the School network and is referred to in the Staff Handbook. This document is concerned with managing diversity and equal opportunities for pupils. At High March we value diversity and treat everyone associated with the School, without prejudice. We value applications from pupils with as diverse a range of backgrounds as possible. This enriches our community and is vital in preparing our pupils for today's world. We concentrate on educating the individual to promote a comfortable and welcoming atmosphere where each individual feels valued and can flourish. We treat everyone with equal concern for all regardless of academic ability, adoptive status, age, disability, ethnic origin, gender, gender reassignment, social and economic background, marriage and civil partnership status, maternity, paternity, pregnancy, religion or belief, sexual orientation, or special need.

The Governing Body is responsible for ensuring that the School complies with legislation, and that this policy and its related procedures and action plans are implemented. A member is allocated responsibility for overseeing the implementation of this policy. The Governing Body monitors the School's overall effectiveness in maintaining their commitment to implement their duties under the Act, in terms of standards, curriculum, admissions, exclusions, personnel issues and the School environment.

The Headmistress and Senior Management Team review the School's rigorous policies and procedures regularly. As required, the School makes reasonable adjustments for any disabled pupils or parents with special educational needs requiring auxiliary aids. The need for reasonable adjustments and provision of auxiliary aids is considered regularly by our

Head of Learning Support, Learning Support teaching staff and Senior Management Team at their regular meetings. The Headmistress and Senior Management Team aim to devote considerable time and effort towards ensuring that staff and pupils are actively engaged in implementing the policy.

Teaching and Support Staff:

- Promote an inclusive and collaborative ethos in their classroom.
- Challenge prejudice and discrimination and deal fairly and professionally with any prejudice-related incidents that may occur.
- Plan and deliver lessons that reflect the School's ethos.
- Provide materials that give positive images in terms of age, race, gender and disability.
- Expect the highest standards from all pupils.
- Support different groups of pupils in their class through differentiated planning and teaching, especially those who have difficulties with learning.
- Keep up-to-date with equalities legislation relevant to their work.

Admissions

We offer a non-selective intake (See Admissions Policy).

Training

We regularly seek opportunities to enable all staff to participate in further training - including developing anti-discriminatory and inclusive practices. These training opportunities are designed to promote pupils' and parents' positive experience of equal opportunities.

We ensure that staff are confident and fully trained in the administration of medicines where this is necessary (See First Aid and Medicines Policy and the staff training log).

All staff are made aware of training opportunities and given an equal chance to attend.

The Learning Environment

We aim to provide an 'Enabling Environment' accessible to all. We do this by:

- Seeking to identify and remove barriers to Inclusion.
- Making reasonable adjustments to the environment and to our resources (both indoors and out) to accommodate a wide range of learning abilities and styles (eg. providing different sized tables and chairs, visual labels for resources). (See also our Learning Support, Inclusion and SEND Policies)
- Differentiating our provision so that we are able to meet the needs of all our children.
- Aiming to make the provision in our School reflect both the diversity present in our community, and in the wider community.
- Aiming to avoid stereotypes in practice and resources (eg male nurse, female fire-fighters).

- Learning about a range of religious festivals (eg Diwali, Chinese New Year) and others depending on the faiths represented in the School at the time and those that reflect the wider community.
- Valuing each child's home language (eg learning to greet one another in languages represented in the class).
- Seeking the views of children and their families to inform practice. Examples of this include parental questionnaires, the Entry Profile, an Open Door Policy, the Home/School Diary, the Learning Support Home Liaison Book and the work of the Parent Representative on the Governing Board.

Valuing Diversity

- We welcome all families and encourage children to contribute stories about their experiences and their lives.
- We encourage parents and carers to take part in the life of the School (eg to speak about a religious festival celebrated by the family, to speak about a parent's occupation).

Working with Parents

- We work in partnership with parents to ensure that medical, cultural and dietary needs are met. (Please see the Entry Profile and Admissions Form)
- We arrange meetings at different times of the day and week so that all parents can be accommodated.
- We communicate information about meetings in a variety of ways to enable access.

SEND Accessibility Plan

The School has a three year plan in place, in accordance with the Act, in order to ensure, where possible, 'reasonable adjustment' for current and future disabled pupils. The School currently has no pupils with physical disabilities which cause them challenges moving around the School.

This plan reflects the School's ethos of inclusion and the desire to be prepared to admit pupils who may have disabilities. The Accessibility Plan should be read in conjunction with other plans and policies, especially the SEND Policy. Staff at the School will work closely with colleagues from other agencies in order to identify and provide the best support possible.

The SEND Accessibility Plan deals with;

- The extent to which disabled pupils (including those with special educational needs) can participate in the School's curriculum.
- How the School ensures school information is in a format that is easily understood by pupils with disabilities.
- How the School improves the physical environment in order to increase the extent to which disabled pupils are able to take advantage of the education and associated services offered by the School.

The Proprietors on advice from the Headmistress, identify the resources required to implement the Plan. Implementation of the Plan is overseen by the Headmistress. The plan is reviewed annually by the Proprietors.

Working with Other Agencies

Relevant members of staff attend EYFS Network meetings and disseminate to and share information and advice with all staff. Staff also liaise with Occupational Therapists, Speech and Language Therapists and Educational Psychologists as required.

Educational Visits

Our Educational Visits Days are planned to maximise opportunities for diversity and cultural enrichment.

Complaints (Please see Parental Complaints Procedure)

The School hopes that parents and pupils do not have any complaints about the operation of the School's Equal Opportunities Policy. Any complaints of discrimination should be addressed in the first instance to the Headmistress. A right of appeal exists to the Chairman of the Board of Governors. Parents are referred to the Parental Complaints Procedure, available from the School Office or on the intranet. In the Foundation Stage if a complaint cannot be resolved within the School, parents can seek support from the Parent Partnership (01296 383754).

Dealing with Inappropriate Behaviour (Please see the Behaviour and Pastoral Care Policy)

Behaviour which discriminates against a pupil on grounds of adoption, age, culture, disability, gender, gender reassignment, race or religion, will not be tolerated. Incidents should be dealt with openly, firmly and clearly by the member of staff concerned. Any incidents of this nature should be discussed with parents and reported to the Headmistress.

Monitoring

The School monitors practice by asking:

- Do our lessons:
  - a) Take account of the diverse experiences of our pupils?
  - b) Take account of the individual nature of our pupils?
  - c) Acknowledge the contribution made by minority groups to our society
  - d) Offer resources to challenge stereotypical and cultural bias?
- How are the pupils grouped in class?
- How successful are we at engaging all pupils in the lesson regardless of race, religion, disability or culture?
- Do our displays take account of pupils' diverse experience and different backgrounds?
- Does the curriculum provide the opportunity to recognise and challenge discrimination?

Code of Conduct

The Headmistress, Senior Management Team, pastoral staff and Directors play an active role in monitoring the implementation of High March's policy and practice in equal opportunities. Use is made of Assemblies, PSHE, Drama, English and other lessons to:

- Promote tolerance of each other and respect for each other's position within the community.
- Promote positive images and role models to avoid prejudice and raise awareness of related issues.
- Foster an open-minded approach and encourage pupils to recognise the contributions made by different cultures. Bias should be recognised.
- Understand why and how we deal with offensive language and behaviour.
- Understand why we deal with any incidents causing concern under this statement promptly and in a sensitive manner.
- Harassment in all its forms is unacceptable. Our Behaviour and Pastoral Care and Anti-Bullying Policies contain clear procedures for dealing with unacceptable behaviour, which could also constitute unlawful discrimination.
- A successful Equal Opportunities ethos requires strong and positive support from parents and guardians and full acceptance of the School's ethos of tolerance and respect.

English as an Additional Language

In order to cope with the high academic and social demands of High March, pupils should be fluent English speakers or prepared to invest time at their parents' expense in becoming so such that they will benefit from the education at High March.

Request for variation in School Uniform

Although High March has Christian roots, we do not select for entry on the basis of religious belief, and we welcome pupils of all faiths to practise their own faiths. However, parents should be aware that all pupils at High March are required to wear a uniform. The Headmistress will consider written requests from parents for variations in the uniform on religious grounds that are consistent with the School's ethos and its policy on Health and Safety. The Headmistress may take expert advice and will normally agree to meet with the parents to discuss the implications of such a request.

Arrangements for reviewing, monitoring and evaluating the effectiveness of Inclusive Practices

- This policy will be reviewed annually to ensure that it remains effective and to ensure that our strategies meet the overall aims of our Equal Opportunities Policy. It will be reviewed by the Senior Management Team, with reference to the staff.
- Parents are encouraged to support the Policy.
